NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., May 4, '98.

The Graded school commencement commenced Monday morning and everything has worked out very nicely. Large crowds have attended daily. Today is the last day and good speaking is looked for. Kemp P. Battle delivered the address today at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Gurley and daughter Clara left today for Baltimore to spend some time visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. M. A. Harris, at one time a resident of this place, but late of Greensboro and mother of our townsman Mr. J. W. Harris, died in Greensboro last night and was brought here this morning where she will be buried this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church.

Mrs. Joyce and daughter Miss Carrie who have made a wide circle of friends in the city, left today for their home in Detroit, Mich. Their many friends here wish to see them again soon.

Misses Virginia and Clara Hamner, who have been away for about twelve months, returned home last night. They spent a part of last year visiting the principal cities in Europe, returning to Washington, where they spent some time visiting friends.

Rev. N. R. Richardson and family and Miss Stella Scroggs went down to Trinity yesterday afternoon for a drive. While coming down a hill the breast strap came loose and the horses became frightened and ran away, throwing the whole load out. Luckily no one was seriously hurt. Mr. Richardson and Mamie were slightly bruised, the surrey and harness considerably torn up and one of the horses was cut up pretty badly.

Chas. Long arrived in the city last night and will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tate are spending the day in Greensboro.

Capt. and Mrs. B. J. Fisher passed through this morning enroute to Ashboro.

John Marsh received a car load of machinery today for the Guilford Foundry and Machine Works.

DAVID GARRICK.

James Young Pleased and Delighted The Audience.

The brilliant and talented James Young played David Garrick to a Greensboro audience last night. To say that all were pleased and delighted is putting it in mild terms.

When Manager Blackburn, of the Academy of Music, wrote in his ad the other day "the best for the last," he did not miss the truth very far. Mr. Young is admirably supported and when the curtain went down on the last act last night all were sorry the play was over.

Mr. Young appears tonight in "The Lady of Lyons." This will be his closing performance and all lovers of a genuine artist on the stage should get their seats at once.

In order to give everybody a chance to see Mr. Young and his splendid company in the "Lady of Lyons" the curtain will not ring up until after prayer meeting, say nine o'clock. Doors open at eight o'clock.

Mr. Young visited the Greensboro Female and the State Normal Colleges this morning and was delighted with the reception he received, and we predict that he will be shown their appreciation of his visit by a full house of college girls to see Hamlet this afternoon and the "Lady of Lyons" tonight.

WE MUST SEIZE PORTO RICO

And Throw Spain's Base of Supplies Across The Atlantic.

MAJOR GENERALS APPOINTED

Arrangements Completed For Embarkation of Troops to Cuba. Translating Dewey's Report.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Washington, May 4—The strategy board has been today considering the best course to pursue with reference to the Spanish fleet which is now westward bound from the Cape Verde Islands. The proposition was submitted and discussed that this fleet must either be met on the high seas and annihilated or we must seize Porto Rico and thus throw the Spanish base of supplies across the Atlantic ocean.

It is understood that the board has decided on the latter course and that a swift patrol service will be established to notify our men of the approach of Spanish vessels in order that our ships may meet them and give battle. There is still some nervousness over the possibility of Spanish cruisers skirting the coast and doing damage since Spain has despaired of her ability to cope with us in a face to face struggle.

Many efforts are being made by officers to satisfactorily account for the failure of the first detachment of troops to start to Cuba on schedule time. It is believed that the plans have been changed.

ASTOR CHANLER OFF TO CUBA.

Said to Have Started With Four Friends to Join Gomez.

Disgusted with the poor prospects of having a part in the fighting in Cuba as commander of a regiment of Americans, William Astor Chanler, it is stated, has resolved to cast his fortunes with Gomez.

He was told last week in Washington that the force he had organized here will not be needed by the Government. The news was bitter disappointment to him, because he had accumulated a body of picked men, every one of them warranted by two doctors sound in mind and limb, and guaranteed by their own assurances to be without any family ties which would inspire them with undue prudence in the heat of battle. His purpose was to lead into service ten full companies of able-bodied dare-devils and to enjoy excitement with them and fun with the forces of Gen. Blanco. When these hopes were officially destroyed he determined to go ahead and do the best he could to pursue his own ideas of a happy summer outing.—New York Sun.

Mayor Crutchfield Vindicated.

In Monday's municipal election in Winston in which Col. A. B. Gorrell was elected, the retiring Mayor Crutchfield received 523 votes and T. J. Wilson 376 votes. Wilson was the candidate of the Lybrook faction and every inch of ground was thoroughly worked. We learn that in the recent contest for postmaster between Lybrook and Crutchfield the former's friends agreed before the authorities in Washington that Crutchfield was exceedingly unpopular in Winston and that he could not poll fifty votes in a city election. The result of this contest shows who is the choice of Winston republicans.

The Way of the World.

Yesterday at the Southern depot in this city the dead body of L. Bryan, enroute to Virginia for internment, lay on a hand drag and was unconsciously brushed and jostled against by the surging thousands who were gathered there to see the soldier boys off. The story of life and death was briefly told. It is the way of the world. There lay a form cold and silent in the last long sleep, totally oblivious of the animated, moving throng around it. There was an immense crowd of people, full of life and vigor, knowing nothing and caring nothing for the dead body in their midst.

Bicycle Drill.

At the request of many who were unable to attend the bicycle drill given sometime ago, the drill, with all its bewildering and pretty figures, will be repeated next Friday night. A deep interest has been taken in the rehearsals for the drill and those who see it this time will be more delighted than they were on the former occasion. Remember the date, Friday night.

LIEUTENANT SETTLE.

He May Be Appointed Lieutenant Colonel of N. C. Volunteers.

A strong effort is being made by Senator Fritchard to have the President appoint Lieutenant Douglas Settle, of North Carolina to a staff position in the volunteer service.

Lieutenant Douglas Settle is a brother of Hon. Thos. Settle of this place. He is North Carolinian by birth and is still a citizen of this state. For the last ten years he has been a Lieutenant in the tenth United States Infantry and has spent this time at various forts on the frontier. The experience gained out in the west with the Indians peculiarly qualifies Mr. Settle for the position.

For the last eighteen months he has been a member of the staff of Governor Atkinson of West Virginia. Lieutenant Settle has lately been detailed by the government to muster in the West Virginia volunteers.

Although the effort is being made to have him appointed by the President, Mr. Settle desires to be appointed a Lieutenant-Colonel of North Carolina volunteers and be associated with his own people. This appointment is made by Governor Russell. Mr. Settle is a West Pointer and after over eleven years active service, he is eminently qualified to fill any position to which the governor may see fit to appoint him.

Passed Peacefully to Her Reward.

AMERICANS, NOT SNOBS.

There have been some instances here and from the public prints we note that there has outcropped elsewhere, a tendency to criticize the personnel of the companies that have volunteered to defend the honor of the country. Even in this town certain smug gentlemen, equipped with the valor to demolish a small beer and put a cock-tail to rout, have seen fit to express dissatisfaction because certain of the volunteers did not come up to their high-cast ideals. Once for all let it be said, that a heart of courage, though it be hidden under a last year's hand-me-down frazzled at the elbows, is preferable, in peace or war, to a white liver though it be concealed by the very latest product of the tailor's art. It has already been pointed out by at least one paper in the state that almost without exception the "crack companies," composed of doughty young gentlemen who fearlessly dare the summer girl in her hammock, have, with the most unbroken unanimity, found it inconvenient to volunteer at this season. Americans, not snobs, are what is needed—bear that in mind.

London, May 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times says: "In well informed circles, it is positively denied that the powers will interfere at the present juncture, nor has any agreement been arrived at for mediation at any future time. The disparity of views is considerable enough to render highly improbable the co-operation of all six powers in any diplomatic step, either at Madrid or Washington."

Ah, to be sure, to be sure. There has been a sudden access to the caution of the Powers. The "power" has, so to speak, suddenly become absorbed in his paper.

A certain French general has seen fit to declare through the medium of the Figaro that during the late war all the evolutions of troops were awkward and that not one single general of ability was developed. Still for the benefit of this Gallic critic, be it said, that both the evolutions and the generals at Gettysburg or Antietam would compare very favorably with the French performances and commanders at Sedan.

The Hon. William Lloyd Garrison, of Boston, continues in a state of active eruption. Garrison forgets that he is not an object of interest just at present. The American people know that the fool, like the poor, we have with us always. There will be an abundance of time to attend to Garrison when there is nothing else to do.

When Spain cut the cable she was true to her principles. Living still in the fourteenth century she naturally prefers fourteenth century methods of disseminating news.

The rainy season is approaching in the Philippines. The current of the governor's proclamations has been dammed up. Disastrous inundations may be expected.

There have been multifarious reports of Spanish spies in this country. Apparently a few might have been stationed along the beach of the bay of Manila armed with telescopes with distinctive advantage. A corps of them with an up-to-date cannon would also have been serviceable.

The binding together of the democratic and populist parties, if such be accomplished, will undoubtedly be followed by the same state of amicableness that the small boy anticipates when he "fuses" the tails of a pair of protesting Thomas cats.

The Progressive Farmer has acquired a correspondent with the very suggestive name of Blow. By all the tokens he should be a prime favorite with the staff of that journal.

The cyclone season has opened at St. Louis but it is not reported that all bodied male citizens have fled for refuge to the recruiting stations.

Your Uncle Sammel has presented to the Spanish navy a number of submarine craft with his compliments.

Up to the present time Spanish honors seem to be in a distressing state of unarticulatedness.

Spanish valor is taking the usual route—attempting to mob one individual.

BLOND THICKER THAN WATER.

Originated in 1859, When Yankee Sailors Helped the British.

The episode recently reported from Hong Kong, China, in which 150 American and British sailors, while on a lark, joined forces and broke through the ranks of more than twice the number of tars of other nations, recalls another more serious incident, in which the two nations fraternized. It was in 1859, in Chinese waters, and on his occasion an American naval officer added to the English language a phrase which has continued popular ever since.

The English and French were bombarding the Chinese forts in the Peiho River. On July 25 English gunboats were removing some obstructions in the river when the Celestials opened a tremendous fire upon them. Capt. Josiah Tatnall of the United States navy, a veteran of the Mexican war, a witness of the attack on the chartered steamer Toey-wan. He remained passive as long as possible, when suddenly turning to a junior officer with the exclamation, "Blood is thicker than water!" he ordered his boat manned. Getting into it, he rowed for the flagship of the British flotilla and reached her with the loss of his coxswain, who was killed by a shot from the Chinese, while his Lieutenant was severely wounded.

Floating on board the British gunboat, Tatnall, with his crew helped to fight and defeat the Chinese. He afterward used his vessel in towing up the British reserves. The action although contrary to the law of nations was never questioned, and promoted good feeling between the English and American seamen.

A Fatal Accident.

A very sad and fatal accident came yesterday to a nine-year-old son of Eugene Shore, living five miles south of Salem. He was riding a spirited horse which ran away with him and threw him off against a tree. The accident occurred at 11 o'clock and the boy never regained consciousness. He lingered until 4 o'clock in the afternoon when his spirit winged itself heavenward. Dr. Babnson was hastily summoned but his efforts to save the boy's life proved futile. The interment will take place at Freidburg Wednesday.—Winston Journal.

Epes Nominated.

Richmond, Va., May 3.—The democratic nomination convention of the Fourth Congressional District of Virginia met here tonight and unanimously nominated Hon. Sydney P. Epes for congress amid great enthusiasm. Congressmen Rhea, of Kentucky, and Hay, of Virginia, made speeches. Resolutions denouncing an outrage and an insult to the district, the unseating of Mr. Epes by the fifty-fifth congress, were adopted.

SLEEP AND DREAMS.

How Agassiz Worked Out a Scientific Problem as Related by Huxford.

The letters on sleep and dreams in The Spectator remind me of a case in the experience of Agassiz, and which he told me himself, though it is recorded in his work on the American fishes. He was studying a fossil fish in the Jardin des Plantes, but had never been able to determine the species to his satisfaction. After a time he dreamed that he caught the very fish and without difficulty determined the question, thinking, as he woke from the dream, that he would have no difficulty. But on returning to the fossil something in the dream had escaped him, and he could no more determine the species than before.

The next night he had the same dream and again forgot the essential point. He then determined to take a pencil and paper with him to bed and make his note as soon as he woke. The dream came the third time, but to his surprise on fully awakening he found the drawing made and lying on the table bed side, with three bones displayed in it which were not visible in the fossil, and which solved the problem. On returning to the Jardin des Plantes he obtained permission of his friend, the director, to chip away a scale of stone which lay on the spot where the bones were in the drawing. And found them there as his drawing had given them. It is 80 years since Agassiz told me the incident, but those who have access to his history of the North American fishes will be able to read it in his own words in the introduction and correct my version if my memory has in any detail failed me.—London Spectator.

The Same Old Story.

"Grandfather," said the young humorist, "can you spend the afternoon with me tomorrow?" "I think so," replied the old man. "But what's the object?" "You are no doubt aware," answered the young man, "that I occasionally write humorous articles for the newspaper."

"Yes, I know," said the old man, with a sigh, "and I have always hoped that you would some day see the error of your ways and reform. But what has that got to do with my spending the afternoon with you?"

"I received a letter from a magazine publisher this morning," replied the alleged funny man, "requesting me to contribute to the humorous department of his publication matter similar to that to which his readers have been accustomed, and in order that I may meet the requirements I want you to tell me some of the jokes current during your boyhood days."—Chicago News.

The Vanilla Bean.

It is not generally known that the vanilla bean is the costliest bean on earth. It grows wild and is gathered by the natives in Papantla and Misantla, Mexico. When brought from the forests, these beans are sold at the rate of $2.50 per 1,000, but when dried and cured they cost about $3.50 per pound. They are mainly used by druggists.—London Globe.

So Tired! So Tired!

Chronic Dyspepsia!

For ten years I had been a severe sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, which was pronounced incurable. I was completely run down, and in the summer season was not able to do anything and spent a great part of the time lying down. I could not touch meat of any kind, or any solid food whatever, as I could not digest it at all and had to live on crackers and light diet. I was very nervous, would have severe nervous spells, and could not get any natural sleep. I was so restless. I suffered all the time from chronic dysentery, which kept me weakened down. That was my condition when I determined as a last resort to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I had tried so many treatments and so many patent medicines without benefit that I had no faith in anything and had almost made up my mind not to try another thing, when Mrs. Joe Person came to my house last April and induced me to try her Remedy. I bought a dozen bottles. Felt no relief whatever until I was on the fourth bottle, when I knew I was getting better. I became stronger, got so I could sleep well and there was no necessity for me to lie down in the day time. I took twenty-two bottles before I stopped. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat meat, vegetables, and anything else I want, and as much as I want. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 98 pounds, now I weigh 115 pounds. Dysentery perfectly cured, and it is all owing to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. It is everything claimed for it.

General News in a Nutshell.

Newfoundland is now the sixth copper producing country in the world, and its supply is said to be practically inexhaustible. The industry was first established in Newfoundland in 1864, when the attention of capitalists was attracted to the resources of Tilt Cove.
Since that time about 50,000 tons of fine copper, valued at $15,000,000, have been turned out.

In honor of the baptism of the four children of a Signora Rosa Zurlo, all born on the same day, the mayor of Foggia, Italy, recently granted a holiday to the villagers. The children have been named Dante, Petrarch, Tasso and Ariosto, after the four great Italian poets.

The following unique announcement has been issued by an old timer who has just opened a dry goods store at Lawrence, Kan.: "Settled in the territory, at Lawrence, in 1857. Stood the drought of 1865. Stood the war of '61-'65. Stood the Quantrell raid.
Stood the Prince raid. Stood the three grasshopper raids. Stood up for Kansas always, and am ready to stand up for the United States against Spain or any other country on earth."

It is probably not generally known to readers of English that the word "dad," used by many children in place of "father," is the purest Welsh. The opening words of the Lord's prayer in Welsh are "Ein Dad."

Grog is served to sailors and marines in the navies of every nation in the world save the United States. The custom was discontinued in our navy many years ago, as it was found to be prejudicial to discipline and morals.
The advocates of the cause of temperance in Great Britain have long been trying to persuade the government to put a stop to the serving of grog, but in vain.

A Roumanian manufacturer has announced his intention of sending to the Paris Exposition in 1900 a pianoforte of such exceptional sonority that its tones will be heard at a distance of six miles. The man whose neighbor's daughter is given to "practicing" at unseasonable hours will have cause to be thankful that this instrument has not yet been put on the market.

When a German servant girl reaches her fortieth year in the employ of one family she is presented with a golden cross by Empress Augusta Victoria.
Last year 144 of these crosses were distributed, only one of which went to a resident of Berlin.

Missouri has more chickens than any other State in the Union. In 1890, when the latest United States census was taken, the chicken population amounted to 23,000,000 and there were more than 2,000,000 fowls of other varieties. The product in eggs for that year was 53,000,000 dozen, valued at about $5,000,000.

The ground in the vicinity of the Bank of England is estimated to be worth not less than $10,000,000 per acre.
Land in Pall Mall has changed hands at $2,500,000 an acre.

What It Means.

When we advertise that we will guarantee Dr. King's New Discovery, it means that we are authorized by the proprietors to sell these remedies on a positive guarantee, that if purchaser is not satisfied with results, we will refund the purchase price. These medicines have been sold on this guarantee for many years, and there could be no more conclusive evidence of their great merit. Ask about them and give them a trial. Sold at C. E.

MRS. THOMAS CARLYLE.

One Occasion When the Clever Woman Was Surprised and Confounded.

The highest time for Mrs. Carlyle's talk was during dinner. Day after day she poured forth witty stories, most of which I have almost forgotten, but in any case it would be deprecation to attempt to repeat almost any of them.
The characteristics of living men and women were often dashed off in a few pithy words, not without satirical touches. George Henry Lewes was not one of her favorites, but I noted with pleasure the way in which she spoke of the wonderful transformation effected by the influence on him of George Eliot.

One of her experiences was when visiting a shoemaker's shop to make a purchase, at the time when sandaled shoes were worn, like those represented in the original illustrations of Dickens.
The sandals were of black ribbon, mounted until the shoes were worn by the purchaser at home. Mrs. Carlyle tried on many shoes, and each time that a shoe proved unsuitable she unconsciously slung it on to her left arm. Being at last suited, and having paid her bill, she left the shop, and had walked a little way when she heard a shout behind her. Looking back she saw the shop-man running after her, much excited and insisting on her returning the stolen shoes. Looking down, she saw to her surprise a number of shoes dangling from her arm. The man indignantly asked her name and address. Her astonishment was such that her name was obliterated for a time from her memory and all she could recollect was her maiden name, "Miss Welsh." The humor in this tale was enhanced to those who knew her from its being so much out of keeping with her usual shrewdness and self-possession that no one could have predicted it of her.

Her death scene, a year later, when "Mr. Silvester," as she named her coachman, during a drive, turned and looked into the carriage—surprised at receiving no orders as to route—and saw her sitting, lifeless, with a pet dog on her knee, has often risen to my thoughts.

My strongest impression was of the deep mutual love evidently subsisting between Mrs. Carlyle and her husband.
Every subject we discussed seemed to recall thoughts of him. If the piano were opened, his song of the "blue day" was referred to or asked for; if any literary man were mentioned, his opinion of him was given, or a story was told showing his relation to other men of note. I felt as if listening to the love talk of a youthful engaged couple, and when, in later days, Froude opened up a floodgate of misunderstanding I felt assured there was a radical misconception of the true state of affairs.—New York Independent.

USE NO LATHER.

Chinese Shave Frequently With a Wet Towel to Soften the Face.

Considering that the inhabitants of the middle kingdom use the razor more than any other nation in the world, it is passing strange that they never discovered the advantages of lathering first, says the Windsor Magazine. Dabbing a warm wet cloth on the chin or the scalp is a poor substitute for soap. Hair cutting, as we practice it in the west, is to them "all unknown," except in a few localities where foreigners are numerous. A traveler when in the province of Kwantung sent for a man to shave his locks, and he began nibbling away at his scalp without troubling about such a trifling as a comb. At the third snip the man stopped him and asked him if he had ever cut a foreign-er's hair before. Oh, yes. When was that? Oh, last year, when he cut the hair of a German customs officer who had died.

But in the matter of shaving there are few more daff—considering the latherless way he does it and the fact that he uses a little three cornered soft iron knife as a razor—than the Chinese figaro. Was not the chief of all his tribe ennobled by an emperor ages back for dexterously cleaving a mosquito that had settled on the imperial nose? One advantage gained by patronizing the Chinese barber—in the case of Europeans—is he doesn't mind coming to your room every morning and shaving you before you wash and dress. But the native also generally waits to be rasped before washing, even if he has to wait a week.

Very Tall Kneeling.

One of the officers of the rebellion had a private in his company whom the boys jestingly named "Little Mack," because of his bigness. He was the tallest man in the company—about 6 feet 8 inches—and one of the bravest in the regiment.

On one occasion when the men were ordered to kneel down behind a stone fence in preparation for an expected assault the officer, who was preparing a surprise for the enemy, on inspecting the line was astonished to see one large, serene face above the top of the fence.
He shouted out angrily, "There, you—you man with the head up, kneel down, sir!" The man did not move, and again the officer thundered, "Why don't you kneel down, sir?"

Obligations to any danger and blind to the significance of his head being exposed, "Little Mack" answered, "I am kneeling down."

"Then," shouted the officer, "put your head down, or you will have it shot off, confound you!" Thereupon "Little Mack" curled down behind the fence, grieving because the Captain had howled at him.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Dangerous.

Father—What are you doing, Emma?
Daughter—Oh, Arthur is coming tonight, and I'm cooking something for him.

Father—Emma, Emma, you'd better be careful. You'll keep on cooking for him till he breaks the engagement—

Notes of
The Prowler

War is h—h—hot business, and as it warms up the weather is also getting hot, politics are assuming a ruddy hue and between these three things it is absolutely safe to predict that during the coming summer the mercury will run high.

I notice in the papers that old Wey-ler, the Spanish butcher, recommends "a bold dash into the enemy's country." Is the old tyrant really in earnest, and does this statement mean that he wants to plant his feet on American soil and inaugurate his system of butchery over here?

I don't believe he meant it, but if he does and wants to come, let him come.
The brave Captain-General and his army would last about as long in the United States as snowflakes would last in Greensboro in August.

But I read on a little further and see that Weyler says he is ready to return to Cuba and help repair the mistakes of the past. By this statement I take it that he has made mistakes. And if, in speaking of the "enemy's country," he means Cuba, I take it that he acknowledges the right of the insurgents to own the island.

Well, anyway and anyhow, if Weyler is in good health where he is he'd better stay there and let Cuba and the United States everlastingly and eternally alone.

Greensboro sent one weak-kneed soldier to the camp at Raleigh. The company had only been there a few hours when one of the boys sent the following telegram to a friend here:
"Greatly disgusted. Will be home tomorrow."
Yours in distress,

I don't know what is the matter with him, whether he is short of sand or whether it is the girl he left behind; but I am satisfied that the company is as well off without him. I once read in the Bible something about Gideon, who started out to capture a city with a tremendous army. Not one by one, but thousand by thousand the weak-kneed fellows were left behind until the crowd was small but they were all brave and the city was captured.

T. Jones, of Carthage, president of Slater, two daughters and one son, of Tideout, Pa., pleasure seekers; S. F.

Nance, of Winston. Besides these there were fifteen others, among whom was Miss Clara Kimble, en route to Chester, S. C., where she is to be married this afternoon.
